Teachers Prepared

On this page, enter the number of program completers by the subject area in which they were prepared to teach, and by their academic majors. Note that an individual can be counted in more than one academic major and subject area. For example, if an individual is prepared to teach Elementary Education and Mathematics, that individual should be counted in both subject areas. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major or subject area, you may leave the cell blank. Please use the "Other" category sparingly, if there is no similar subject area or academic major listed. In these cases, you should use the text box to describe the subject area(s) and/or the academic major(s) counted in the "Other" category.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the program completers in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the program completers in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the program completers for the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the teachers prepared data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

THIS PAGE INCLUDES:

- >> Teachers Prepared by Subject Area
- >> Teachers Prepared by Academic Major

Teachers Prepared by Subject Area

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by subject area for academic year 2022-23.

For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. "Subject area" refers to the subject area(s) an individual has been prepared to teach. An individual can be counted in more than one subject area. If no individuals were prepared in a particular subject area, please leave that cell blank. (§205(b)(1)(H))

What are CIP Codes?

No teachers prepared in academic year 2022-23

If your program has no teachers prepared, check the box above and leave the table below blank (or clear responses already entered).

What are CIP codes? The Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) provides a taxonomic scheme that supports the accurate tracking and reporting of fields of study and program completions activity. CIP was originally developed by the U.S. Department of Education's National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) in 1980, with revisions occurring in 1985, 1990, and 2000 (https://nces.ed.gov/ipeds/cipcode/Default.aspx?y=55).

Teachers Prepared by Academic Major

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by academic major for academic year 2022-23. For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. "Academic major" refers to the actual major(s) declared by the program completer. An individual can be counted in more than one academic major. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major, please leave that cell blank. (§205(b)(1)(H))

Please note that the list of majors includes several "Teacher Education" majors, as well as several noneducation majors. Please use care in entering your majors to ensure education-specific majors and non-education majors are counted correctly. For example, if an individual majored in Chemistry, that individual should be counted in the "Chemistry" academic major category rather than the "Teacher Education—Chemistry" category.

What are CIP Codes?

Does this teacher preparation provider grant degrees upon completion of its programs?

No Yes

No teachers prepared in academic year 2022-23

If this provider does not grant participants a degree upon completion, or has no teachers prepared, leave the table below blank (or clear responses already entered).

Program Assurances
Note: This section is preloaded from the prior year's IPRC.
1. Program preparation responds to the identified needs of the local educational agencies or States where the program completers are likely to teach based on past hiring and recruitment trends.
Yes No
2. Preparation is closely linked with the needs of schools and the instructional decisions new teachers face in the classroom. Yes No
3. Prospective special education teachers are prepared in core academic subjects and to instruct in core academic subjects. Yes No Program does not prepare special education teachers
4. Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to students with disabilities. Yes No
5. Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to limited English proficient students. Yes No
6. Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to students from low-income families. Yes No

- 7. Prospective teachers are prepared to effectively teach in urban and rural schools, as applicable.
 - Yes
 - No
- 8. Describe your institution's most successful strategies in meeting the assurances listed above:

Faculty members are appointed as advisors at each level of admission to the program "Gates". Each faculty advisor meets individually with every student at each of the 4 admissions and retention "Gates." Interaction in these meetings ensures that the teacher education student and program meet the assurances listed above. Also, members of the teacher education program participate in an "Action Plan" meeting every academic year, where data are examined and interpreted, decisions about the program are made, and student performance is discussed. At this meeting, such assurances are examined and discussed. All students are required to take a specific course in teaching students from diverse populations and with exceptionalities. These assurances are included in our official evaluation forms.

Annual Goals: Mathematics

Each institution of higher education (IHE) that conducts a traditional teacher preparation program (including programs that offer any ongoing professional development programs) or alternative route teacher preparation program, and that enrolls students receiving Federal assistance under this Act, shall set annual quantifiable goals for increasing the number of prospective teachers trained in teacher shortage areas designated by the Secretary or by the state educational agency, including mathematics, science, special education, and instruction of limited English proficient students. (§205(a)(1) (A)(i), §205(a)(1)(A)(ii), §206(a))

Assessment Pass Rates

The pass rates table is populated from files provided by the testing company or state. The table provides information on the performance of the students in your teacher preparation program on each teacher credential assessment used by your state. In cases where a student has taken a given assessment more than once, the highest score on that test is used. In the case of a teacher preparation program with fewer than 10 scores reported on any single initial teacher credential assessment during an academic year, the program shall collect and publish information with respect to an average pass rate and scaled score on each state credential assessment taken over a three-year period. (§205(a)(1)(B))

Please note that this page does not have an edit feature as the pass rates have already been through several rounds of verification. If you identify an error, please contact RTI's Title II Support Center and your testing company representative.

Summary Pass Rates

The pass rates table is populated from files provided by the testing company or state. The table provides information on the performance of the students in your teacher preparation program on each teacher credential assessment used by your state. In cases where a student has taken a given assessment more than once, the highest score on that test is used. In the case of a teacher preparation program with fewer than 10 scores reported on any single initial teacher credential assessment during an academic year, the program shall collect and publish information with respect to an average pass rate and scaled score on each state credential assessment taken over a three-year period. (§205(a)(1)(B))

Please note that this page does not have an edit feature as the pass rates have already been through several rounds of verification. If you identify an error, please contact RTI's Title II Support Center and your testing company representative.

Use of Technology

 Provide the following information about the use of technology in your teacher preparation program. Ple 	ease note that choosing 'yes' indicates that your teacher preparation program would be able to provide evidence upon request. (§205(a)(1)(F))

Does your program prepare teachers to:

- a. integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction
 - Ye
- b. use technology effectively to collect data to improve teaching and learning
 - Yes
- c. use technology effectively to manage data to improve teaching and learning
 - Yes
- d. use technology effectively to analyze data to improve teaching and learning
 - Yes
- 2. Provide a description of the evidence that your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction, and to use technology effectively to collect, manage, and analyze data in order to improve teaching and learning for the purpose of increasing student academic achievement. Include a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to use the principles of universal design for learning, as applicable. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the four elements listed above are not currently in place.

Multiple technology projects are intentionally woven throughout the education curriculum, a strategy that allows teacher candidates to use instructional and informational technologies within a meaningful context. All EPP faculty believe that candidates will incorporate technology in more authentic and meaningful ways if they are expected to use technology in their own teaching and learning. We emphasize the use of SmartBoard technology in our methodology classes. To facilitate this we developed a framework that helps focus our conversation. In our introductory methods classes, when students are designing their initial lesson plans, we focus a specific assessment rubric on their use of technology to enhance the lesson design. With the help of our technology team in the department we pulled together a draft rubric that we can use as a starting point to have this conversation. There are components in PRECPAST that also hit on these topics. We repeated the same process for lesson design in the student teaching experience.

Supervisors would assess one of the lesson plans taught during student teaching with the same technology enhancement rubric. I like this as a means to close the circle we start in the early methods. There are components in CPAST that also hit on these topics. The department will utilize the SAMR model for utilizing technology in our courses.

- 1. Provide a description of the activities that prepare general education teachers to:
 - a. Teach students with disabilities effectively

The Department of Education at The College of Wooster requires that all Elementary and Adolescent to Young Adult candidates to enroll in and successfully complete the following course prior to program completion. EDUC17000-Introduction to Intervention and Student Support. This course is designed to explore the federal government's exceptionalities categories and special education models currently used in schools. Emphasis is placed on the following topics: laws governing special education; research-to-practice gap; disproportionate representation in special needs classrooms; the impact of ELL/ESL; at-risk students; collaborations with colleagues and students' families; instructional differentiation; early intervention; problem-solving; writing and interpreting the IEP: cultural diversity, and Dyslexia. The course includes a 20-hour field placement/speaker series to learn more about a special needs program. In addition, all students must take EDUC300-Classroom Management as Social Justice. This course examines topics relevant to all teachers. Guest speakers from local schools and agencies are integral to both courses. Although these courses focus primarily on the preparation of general education teachers, they are designed specifically on how to teach students with disabilities. In addition to these specific courses, the majority of courses throughout the education program integrate numerous lessons and specific practices and principles with the same focus.

b. Participate as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act.

Students in Student Teaching program may participate in an IEP as observation only.

c. Effectively teach students who are limited English proficient.

Students in the Field and Student Teaching placements will work with students if they are placed in a classroom with ELL students.

2. Does your program prepare special education teachers?
